Maskwacis Elders Mentor Program:

Join the Maskwacis Elders Mentoring Program where Elders from the community support pregnant women, new moms, and their partners. The Elders provide a safe space for you to share your feelings and they give guidance, compassion, and Cultural teachings.

-Lena Cutknife,
Local Elder

Send us a message and we can set up a time for you to chat with an Elder on Zoom or over the phone.

The Elders are here to bridge health and culture.

In the words of Elder Muriel Lee: “We teach you how to take care of your baby, so the transition from womb to the world is as smooth, loving, and gentle as possible.”

-Muriel Lee,
Local Elder

You can submit a request to speak to an Elder by either:

Emailing: elders@ualberta.ca

Phone: 780-913-5341

Facebook message to: Maskwacis Elders Mentoring Program

Instagram: EldersMentoringProgram

You can have an open conversation with the Elder who can provide you with support. We hope to have the program back to in-person soon at the Wetaskiwin PCN, and other clinic locations in the Maskwacis area – pending COVID restrictions.

Maskwacis RCMP Incorporate Community Logo with Crest

The Maskwacis RCMP have incorporated their Community Policing logo onto their marked police vehicles to recognize and promote the community they serve. The Community logo incorporates the RCMP crest surrounded by a traditional Cree medicine wheel. Hanging from the medicine wheel are four eagle feathers, each representing one of the four Cree Nations policed by the Maskwacis RCMP Detachment; Louis Bull, Montana, Ermineskin, and Samson. Below the logo are the Cree syllabics for “Nakateyimowewak”, meaning, “protectingly caring for community”; wording suggested by a local community Elder. When asked about the importance of the changes, Staff Sergeant Richard McKay had the following to say, “Incorporating cultural symbols and the Cree language onto our vehicles is a respectful step in better serving our community, and shows a commitment to honoring the traditions and official language of the Four Nations we serve.”

Corporal Holly Porterfield (Maskwacis Community Policing) and Acting Corporal Ron Piche (Watch Commander) with the new design.

KKI Law Lodge Meet and Greet

On February 9th, 2022, Kanawemahwasowin Kamik Inc's Law Lodge had the first meet and greet session that was held online via Google Meets. The session was to cover the introduction of the unit's work, share the operations and vision of the law lodge working group in a transparent and inclusive matter for the benefit of the ECN people and especially the children. The moderator for the event was Former AFN National Chief Candidate, Jodi Callihou Stonehouse, The speakers included Chief Randy Ermineskin, Councillor and Portfolio Holder Jason Makinaw, Kanawamahwewsowin Kamik Law Lodge Law and Policy coordinator Josh Littlechild and Restorative Justice Coordinator Steven Farmer, Drew Lafond From MLT Akins, Amanda Baretta and Danielle Collins of Latitude Family Law and invocation by Elder Pat Buffalo.

The Meet and Greet Event Highlighted Kana-wemahwasowin Kamik's Law and Restorative Justice unit initiatives and goals to develop the Awasis Wasawaywin (law) with the Ermineskin People, which includes focus groups of Elders, Adults ( 60's Scoop Survivors, People who were in the Child Welfare System) and the youth of Ermineskin Cree Nation and an introduction of the Restorative Justice services. The Legal council portion of the update was on the new legislation of Bill C-92, Ermineskin's Position as a non-deligated first nation and what it means specifically regarding issues in child welfare concerning the Ermineskin Cree Nation.

The event included an interactive portion to collect data to tailor the Awasis Weyasowin. The event concluded with invitations to the March 2nd, 2022 engagement session. The broadcasted event will be available for viewing on www.kkamik.com For more information please call 780-585-3721 and contact Josh Littlechild.

Ermineskin Youth Mentorship Program

The Ermineskin Youth Mentorship Program is provided to Ermineskin youth and young adults for work experience, but most importantly, a better understanding of the fundamentals when it comes to being employed and the importance of the educational system. Jaylene Janvier, Youth Mentorship Programmer, has said "What I want my youth employees to take away from these programs is a better understanding of the benefits of education, continuing education or post-secondary, and to understand what Labour Marketing is."

The Mentorship Program has had to make a few changes due to the COVID-19 Cases in the community. Work placement has been harder to approve, but the program has adapted to these changes quickly by making their courses and teachings available online. "Covid has really made it difficult for youth to be approved to work in person. We are doing our best to keep our youth safe. I am happy that they understand that Safety Protocols are in place for not only themselves but our staff and community as well. Covid Made the Youth Mentored Program a Virtual reality, We meet, learn, and experience virtually."

"We currently have two youth groups employed who are working virtually, learning a number of programs such as; Literacy Writing Skills, basic Cree classes, computer coding, mental health awareness, Employment Readiness, time and stress management, resume writing, as well as a Money Mentor Training." Jaylene goes on to say, "Our youth have even been given the opportunity to learn via ZOOM from our own ECN Employees and their Departments about the programs and services provide to our community, along with their policies and procedures."

Caylene Wildcat, who is attending the Youth Employment

Caylene Wildcat, Student with the ECN Youth Employment Program

Program, says she has enjoyed her experience so far from the courses. "I found that a lot of our events provided for the community are planned and set up by the ECN Departments. I have been learning a lot about the jobs in the community and what they provide to Ermineskin. My favourite part of the program would be how they teach us about the importance of stress management and mental health."

The Mentorship Program is currently taking applications for a Virtual Science and Technology After-School Program for 16 youth, ages 13 - 18. The goal is to promote the benefits of Science and Technology Education within the community. The program will have weekly Zoom meetings with science activities, experiment kits students can do at home, and sessions where they explore Science/Tech careers. Applications can be picked up from Jaylene Janvier at the P&R Building across the ECN Administration Building. You can also either download an application form or fill out a Google Form on the Ermineskin Website: <https://ermineskin.ca/job-opportunities> The deadline to apply is: MARCH 3RD, 2022 Please reach out to Jaylene Janvier or Millie Mackinaw (Programmer Assistant) if you should have any other questions about the program or application process: (780) 585-4006 Ext.291 Email: jaylene@ermineskin.ca or millie@ermineskin.ca

What Pink Shirt Day Means to Me

Malcolm Cutarm-Houle likes playing video games, crafting with plasticine, and has recently started making his own card games. He has always loved cats, coffee and spending time with his best friend, Kayla (who is also his older sister). He is funny, helpful, sweet and has always been caring towards other people. “My brother’s first day of school was tough,” says his sister Marleigh, “I worried about whether the other students or his teachers would be nice to him. If they would listen to him and make him feel safe.

Malcom Cutarm-Houle

“We always worried about bullying, and it's something we worry about, even today. Unfortunately, we cannot protect our young ones from everything.” She goes on to say, “Bumps and bruises from playing outside can be kissed and covered with a band-aid, but how do you heal a child from words someone has said?”

As Malcolm continued through elementary school, he had encountered his first experience with a bully. “When he first told us, we were heartbroken and asked him what had happened. We told his teacher, and they told us that it will be handled. But it still continued, and got to a point where he would ask not to go to school somedays,” says his mother, Helena.

It wasn’t only in school he experienced bullying, it was also happening on the bus. “Malcolm will keep to himself when coming home or on his way to school. He would always sit with either me or my sister (Kayla) because we knew others wouldn’t bother him, especially if he was already having a bad day. He is also very honest, which means if he saw another student not sitting down, or doing something they shouldn’t be doing he will tell them to stop, as well as tell the driver. But there were rare occasions where we (Kayla and I) were unable to ride home with him from school. The most upsetting part about the whole situation was the fact that the kids that bothered him on the bus were older than him. Kids in grades 8, 9 or 10 were teasing my brother, who was only in elementary school. That is something that will never sit right with me,” Marleigh says.

What Pink Shirt Day Means to Me Contd.

Malcom Cutarm-Houle and Kayla Cutarm

His sister, Kayla also had this to say, “I was always nervous that students or staff wouldn’t take the time to understand him and treat him properly, until he met his TA. She was so caring to him and took the time to learn with him. He was always excited to go to school to see Ms. Stephan, the one person that could see him for who he was and taught him to embrace his little quirks. Never once did she treat him wrongfully. She showed him that there are good people out there looking out for our little ones.”

“What Ms. Stephan did for my brother is something I cannot thank her enough for. He is so confident when it comes to meeting people, and trying to make friends. She listened to him and gave him a safe place to laugh, play and just be. He isn’t shy anymore and is unapologetically himself, which is how all kids should be.”

“Pink Shirt Day, to me, means we still have work to do when it comes to anti-bullying. This one day should be practiced every day. From what I have seen, bullying someone who has special needs isn’t talked about enough and needs to be addressed more. We have always taught Malcolm to be honest, caring and just be himself. I think what people should take away from this,” says Marleigh, “is that your words and actions will have lasting effects. Bullying can happen to anyone, anytime, anywhere. But we will always remember those who helped us when we needed it most. It costs nothing to be kind, and most times we just need to listen. Just because someone is different, doesn’t mean they should be treated differently.”

A Statement on Covid-19 From The Community

As of February 16th Ermineskin has released a short series of videos of various members of the community speaking on Covid-19 and the importance of following guidelines and restrictions to keep our community safe. There are three videos in total, one each from the elders, youth, and community as a whole. We would like to share with you a few of the statements given in the videos. We would also strongly encourage those who are able to watch them to do so in order to hear everyone's message and grasp to the full impact of the words that were spoken. You can watch the videos on our Facebook page at <https://www.facebook.com/erminekin/videos> or on YouTube via searching Ermineskin Cree Nation.

Eve Littlechild Rain gave her statement as a representative of the Ermineskin youth: "I respect my family and elders and want to protect them from the virus. I always make sure to be kind and stay safe when I'm at home and outside. Please remember to wear your mask, wash your hands, and stay safe! We are all in this together!" Representing the elders in the community Mary Stoney had this to say: "Our community must come together to reduce the spread of COVID-19 in the Ermineskin Nation. Now it is more important than ever to protect the ones you love. Your elders are more vulnerable to this awful disease. We ask that you do your part to keep us safe."

And as a representative of the community as a whole Chief Randy Ermineskin gave this statement:

"As Chief of Ermineskin Cree Nation, I want to thank every community member for staying strong over these past few years. I understand how tired you may be of this virus, however, we must remain mindful of the current impacts."

"I would like to encourage all who are eligible to get their vaccines, and to stay on the path towards a healthier future. We are here to care for one another. The time is now to put in the work. Stay safe and stay vigilant in the fight against COVID-19. We will get through this. Aki-maymok."
