E.C.N TURKEY TROT 2023

During the early morning of October 9th, 2023 Ermineskin hosted its Annual Turkey Trot. Over a hundred (100) community members participated in this year’s turkey trot from many different age categories. Participants from each category competed for the top five (5) places. With eleven (11) age categories; a total of 55 prizes were given away with items such as, turkey, ham, stuffing, potatoes, pies and neckbones! The purpose of the turkey trot is to allow members of our community to engage in a healthy environment as they walk/run the routes, promoting movement and exercise at any age. Community engagement is like the heartbeat of the nation—it keeps things alive and thriving. When people actively participate in our community, it creates a ripple effect of positive change. It's not just about being physically present; it's about being involved, and working together towards common goals; promoting health. Whether it's volunteering, attending our local events, or collaborating on community projects - engagement strengthens social bonds, fosters a sense of belonging, and promotes shared responsibility as well as having fun in a safe environment! Thank you to all staff, volunteers and participants for another great turnout at the E.C.N Annual Turkey Trot. Our numbers grow every year, and we appreciate everyone who comes with their families to join us on your holiday!

“A STEP TOWARDS RECONCILIATION”

Ermineskin was the first stop on a Tour of the Nations with City of Leduc. Chief Joel Mykat and a few of our Councillors got the amazing opportunity to welcome the City of Leduc Leadership and Councillors, along with their City Manager & CEO to Ermineskin Cree Nation. The representatives from Leduc got to take a walk-through of our Administration Building and introduce themselves to the staff. They later met in the chambers, where they presented our Chief with protocol and a beautiful painting done by Leduc local artists.

Following, the tour went to visit the Panee Agriplex and Bear Park Powwow Grounds, where we have a rich and historical background, showing where many nations and visitors come from across Turtle Island to gather and celebrate with us as a Nation. The Leduc Council and representatives also had the opportunity to visiting the Four Nations of Maskwacis (Samson Cree Nation, Montana First Nation and Louis Bull Reserve) in hopes of building better relationships and strong future partnerships with one another.

THERESA C WILDCAT LEARNING CENTRE OPENS IT'S DOORS!

“We are so excited to be welcoming our awasisak into our new building on Monday, October 16, 2023. Our staff has been hard at work over the past week getting the space ready for our awasisak to play, learn, and grow in a good way! In order to help with a smooth transition, we have developed the following plan for morning arrival:

- For students arriving on buses, staff will greet buses and help direct students to the new school. We will have staff in the building helping students find their classrooms.
- For students who are dropped off, staff will meet students at the front doors and will ask for families to follow our Hug-and-Go procedure. This means goodbyes are said at the front door and staff will help students find their classrooms from there.

We know you want to see the new building, and we are planning an event to show off the new space to families soon! At this time, however, and for the safety of our students and staff, we will not be allowing anyone into the school during morning drop-offs. Our admin, counsellor, teachers, and EAs will be on hand to help students with the transition and to help with any student needs. We will be spending a lot of time getting students used to the new space and exploring all the incredible new features our school has! We are so excited for this new beginning and can't wait to share in the joy of it with our families soon! If you have any questions or concerns, please contact us.”

Healing for Gang Members

Deep down there is a good person in all of us.
 If you take a second look,
 maybe you will see it!”
#secondlook

On October 12th Str8Up, an organization that provides outreach and support to gang members seeking reform, gave a heartfelt presentation at the Howard Buffalo Memorial Centre (H.B.M.C.). Str8Up was founded in 1990 in Saskatchewan and has always used a self referral policy, meaning those seeking help have to come to them and they don't seek them out.

The organization is founded on the principles of personal accountability and providing support to those who are looking to break free from the cycles of self harm and addiction that kept them in these gangs. While Str8Up does emphasize personal accountability they also make a point of what we as a community can do to provide a support system to those in need so we can help prevent people from taking a darker path when they feel powerless and isolated. Several former gang members who had been through the program told their personal stories and consistently what drove them to join these gangs was having no one else to turn to during the lowest points in their lives.

They outlined several major steps someone needs to take before they can be accepted into the program and move forward.

Those steps were as follows:

- Dropping their gang colors
- Give up any addictions.
- Be honest
- Be humble.

Str8Up has stated that they find most people who find themselves in gangs often struggle with some form of substance abuse and a large portion of the healing process is to acknowledge their faults and any suffering they may have caused. They use the teachings of the medicine wheel to try to heal mind, body, heart, and spirit. The full name of the organization is Str8Up Ten Thousand Little Steps to Healing. “We got the name because when we were coming up with the name, we didn't want something like ‘anti-gang strategy,’” said one of the groups founders Stan Tuinukuafe.

“I believe the ten thousand steps also refers to the long road ahead for those struggling with addiction, for many it's a lifelong battle and the risk of a relapse is always present. It's important to recognize you can't force change out of someone but you can support them when they pursue it.

PREGNANCY & INFANT LOSS AWARENESS WALK

The month of October has many awareness topics such as Breast Cancer, Autism, Mental Health, and Pregnancy & Infant Loss. October has a long tradition and significance as a month to remember children who passed. Several Canadian provinces have recognized October 15th as Pregnancy and Infant Loss Remembrance Day – a time to support the thousands of people across Canada whose lives are tragically altered by the loss of a baby as a result of an ectopic pregnancy, miscarriage, stillbirth or death in infancy. This topic is a hard discussion, but a very real experience for many mothers and parent's within the Four Nations.

Tanya McDougall-Cutarm spoke with a heavy heart about her grief and how she started her journey of healing. "When I lost my baby, I think it was a calling to start a support group for other mothers who were also going through the same thing I was, and we came up with the name Kisewatsiwin. We were helping our hearts through sharing. This support group is to help uplift one another in a compassionate, meaningful way. With guidance of our elders and teachings, we can heal together. It is facilitate by other survivors and supported by many other local facilities and groups like Maskwacis Health Services, Early Years, Maskwacis and Maskwacis Elders Program. You don't have to go through it alone. We have our elders, we have the resources, we have Early Years and the counselling servies, and we have so many different wellness programs in the community."

Father's are also affected by loss, Montana's Leadership Brad Rabitt shares a bit about his experience with infant loss. "My wife and I have gone through two miscarriages. I believe Creator had brought me here for a reason. Sometimes the hustle and bustle of society that we live in today makes us forget these experiences that we go through as parents. Con'td .....

As I grow older, I realize that I have had dreams of my children that I never got to meet. They are in the spirit world, and I will ask them to look over us as they sit with creator. We need to keep supporting eachother, we need to be there for eachother, because there are so many of us that go through this loss, and we never fully process it it happening."

Kisewatsiwin Support Group, along with many other supporting organizations, hosted a Pregnancy & Infant Loss Awareness Walk. They started the afternoon with some opening remarks from Tanya McDougall-Cutarm, thanking those who came and what Kisewatsiwin Support Group means to her, and how it helped those in the community.

The walk led to Bear Park, where many guest speakers such as ECN Leadership Cheryl Littlechild and Trudy Whitebear, elder Marilyn Yellowbird and Kisipatnakh Health and Wellness support Cherrisa Twins spoke on what this day means to them, and how it is meant for healing. Finishing the ceremony, Cheryl Littlechild sang the Grandmother's Song. We thank those who came to show their support for those who have experienced loss or have been affected by infant & pregnancy loss.

POST SECONDARY AWARDS CEREMONY

Education is like the key that unlocks countless doors in life. It's not just about memorizing facts and figures; it's about developing critical thinking skills, gaining perspective, and understanding the world around you. Education empowers you to make informed decisions, opens up opportunities, and enhances your ability to contribute meaningfully to society. It's a lifelong journey that not only shapes your career but also shapes you as an individual.

A celebration and awards ceremony was held on October 14th, 2023 for all graduating post secondary students this year! With over thirty (30) plus graduates this year, each student was present and honored with a Certification of Completion and a beautiful E.E.T.F medallion hand crafted by a local artist. In addition, the ceremony also honored past and present Chiefs, Council Members, Board of Trustee's, Portfolio Holders, Elders, and Grand Chief of the Confederacy of Treaty Six (6) Dr. Wilton Littlechild. ## ERMINESKIN CHIEF AND COUNCIL

RELEASE DATE:

October 4th, 2023

COMMUNITY WATER UPDATE

Chief & Council and senior staff met on April 17 to review and discuss input from the Elders Meeting and Community Meeting held in March regarding the waterline project and related matters. There were many comments and questions at the meetings but in general terms the opinions expressed were in three categories that were more or less equally supported:

- 1) Some opposed the waterline project and related agreement with Alberta;
- 2) Others wanted changes to the related agreement with Alberta, with a focus on removing the sections that deal with water wells on Nation reserve lands; and
- 3) Other elders and community members supported the waterline, see it as key to future generations, and want the Nation to proceed with the project.

In an effort to respect each of these perspectives and make a balanced decision, Chief and Council made the following decisions on April 17 by way of strong majority. In light of the seven expert studies over the past two decades confirming significant issues with the declining quality and quantity of groundwater at Ermineskin, Chief and Council decided to proceed with the waterline project but with important changes to Ermineskin's path forward. This was revisited after the Nation's recent election and continues to be supported by Council.

Ermineskin will re-open negotiations with Alberta to remove all sections of the agreement that relate to groundwater and water wells at Ermineskin. Those negotiations will be time limited and will have only until the waterline is connected to Ermineskin to satisfy the changes that the Nation requires.

If the negotiations with Alberta are not successful by the time the waterline is connected, Chief and Council have made a binding formal decision in advance to terminate the agreement with Alberta. If termination is necessary, it will not impact Ermineskin's ownership share in the regional water system, the Nation's seat on the commission that governs the regional water system, or Ermineskin's legal entitlement to the 890,000 cubic meters of water annually from the Red Deer River (an amount that roughly doubles the Nation's currently available water supply and ensures Ermineskin's water security for many years).

For information, regional water systems are not uncommon, nine other First Nations have joined regional water systems and are now benefitting from improved water security and quality. As part of funding for operation and maintenance of water systems, ISC fully funds the cost of using water from regional systems.

Finally, as part of these decisions, Chief and Council have committed to further consultation with elders and the community as additional steps and decisions need to be made about new water infrastructure at Ermineskin or related matters.
